

NOT IN MY HOUSE

by Kristi Faulkner Dance

"Kristi has this amazing mind as a choreographer – she's silly, she's fun, she's irreverent, she's passionate...it's just incredible what she can do with movement."

- Amy Wilson, ArtPeers

"Kristi Faulkner Dance has been shaking up the Detroit dance world with new, original productions backed by natural movement and a thoughtful mix of music."

- Eli Newman, Culture City

Not in My House radically shifts the narrative about LGBTQ+ identity through the creative re-imagining of coming out stories in this live performance by Kristi Faulkner Dance blending vogue, contemporary dance, and storytelling.

Kristi Faulkner Dance is a queer-identified company based in Detroit that dares to be different - creating thought-provoking, visceral experiences that generate meaningful conversation and social exchange. From warehouses to community centers, stage to screen, museums to the middle of the street, KFD believes in making dance accessible & empowering audiences to connect with their world.
